1. Department of Education.
One size does not fit all students. I want to reduce the Department to ten employees who would send one check yearly to each school district, based on student population, with a note on the memo line - FOR CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION ONLY.
2. It is not possible to have privacy and freedom at the same time. Freedom is the most important, with swift punishment for terrorist.
3. No term limits on Representatives. Only voters should control who serves in the House.
4. People who enter the U.S., without permission, should be told to leave the U.S.. However, people who can prove they entered the U.S. before 1-1-10 and has been employed and has paid taxes due, would be given a green card.

5. Yes. This system would remove the people who want to use our country, giving people who want to help our country an opportunity to do so.
6. The roll of the Federal Government is to serve the U.S. and its citizens. The internal affairs of other nations belong to the other nations.
7. I do support a voucher system where parents have control of how and where their children are educated.
8. I do not support Common Core because the curriculum and standards should be set by a local school system with "some" guidance from the state.
9. The U.S. Department of Education has no roll in individual states governing themselves and no actual roll in a state's education system.

10. Congress has done its job when they pass a budget. After Congress passes a budget and sends it to the President, he/she alone decides to continue operating the government with a yes or to shut the government down with a no signature.
11. We could break the budget down into ten areas and force a vote on one per month. Omnibus bills are purposely created to give power to certain people and cover with the voters back home.
12. Representatives should work for the good of our country and his/her district, helping people work thru the created red tape so the government works for the people.
13. Representatives Jim Jordan and Mike Turner who from newspaper reports are trying to better our country.
I will pass on the Senator question
